RULES AND PROPER USES OF THE ALL INCLUSIVE PROMOTION

- At arrival, the hotel will give to the client all the details of the All Inclusive services booked and the rules and proper use of this service. The client has to accept and follow this rules
- The hotel will provide the client a physical way for his/her correct identification of the promotion. The customer must always carry and present the keycard to consume, both in bar and restaurant, to check and prove their identity.
- The All inclusive promotion in Bars ends on the last day before the check-out at 23: hours / 11:00 pm. and in the Restaurant it ends with the last service booked (if your fist meal booked is lunch your last service will be breakfast and if your first meal is dinner your last service will be lunch).
- The client can order one drink every time and it is forbidden to invite other clients with the promotion. If this fact happens, the client will be excluded of the all-inclusive promotion. The hotel will create a system of control to avoid these practices.
- The All-inclusive services will be offered only during the indicated time.
- The hotel will indicate which point of sale will offer the All-inclusive service in every moment. The hotel will guarantee that there will be at least one point of sale open during the time of the service that offers the All-inclusive.
- If the hotel detects that a client has drunk in excess and causes disturbs to other clients or to the staff, the hotel will have the right to stop serving alcoholic drinks to this client.
